Family Focus We had the privilege last week of praying for Joel Diederich who came asking for our prayers and support during this difficult time in his life. Keep him in your prayers in the days ahead.

Today we welcome home the campers from Happy Hollow! This afternoon at 5:00 PM the Union Hill congregation will be having a groundbreaking for their new auditorium. It would be nice if a few of us could be there to help them celebrate this new milestone! Tonight at Sunset we will be having our Fifth Sunday Singing followed by the Ice Cream Supper with the young people from Fair Haven as our guests.

Words cannot express the love Vicki and I felt last Sunday with our 15 year anniversary surprise. We stayed up until 11:00 Sunday night reading the most wonderful expressions of love that so many of you penned in your cards. We are so grateful the Lord brought us to Sunset all those years ago.

If you love someone, be sure and tell. It means a lot!
Joe

SUNSET MINISTRIES

CARE GROUPS

We have four Care Groups that rotate through the month taking responsibility for making contact with those who visit our assembly each week. These contacts are done in the form of a personal visit, a phone call or, failing one of these attempts, a card. There are two months which have five weeks in them and on those fifth weeks we get together and have a potluck or just take it easy that weekend. Every week the current group is listed first on the calendar. As you can see there won't be a potluck this weekend. If you would like more information on this ministry, call Noel Davis (886-8324).

Youth Activities

Word has it that the week at Happy Hollow went great. A couple of the younger campers were welcomed to their first ever overnight camp by an unwelcome guest, a big black snake. Bryce wanted me to remind everyone their money for the Kansas City trip is due ASAP (preferably by tonight), and each one of you need to turn in your Emergency Medical Forms (EMFs). It is very important we have these updated forms for all trips and activities. Please remember to look over your calendars on a daily basis and see what is going on for the week. The fun is just beginning.
